Synopsis
The Department of Zoology at Balwant College, Vita, organized a special event to commemorate Science Week 2025-26 in collaboration With Science Association Committee, Balwant College, Vita. A total 23 students actively participated. As part of the celebration, students wrote Bibliography of Women scientists. The activity aimed to blend the art of penmanship with academic tribute, focusing on the bibliographies of pioneering women scientists. The event successfully highlighted that beautiful handwriting is a vital skill that enhances both academic growth and personal discipline. The program concluded with words of appreciation from faculty members and emphasizing the importance of youth involvement. The Hand Writing competition was judged by Miss. Kate R. D. and Mr. Pawar A.S, Assistant Professor, Department of Zoology, Balwant College, Vita. The Program was conducted smoothly.
